Principal's Message

To the Class of 1952 and its Sponsors:

Let me congratulate you upon assuming the responsibilities of this Annual. As the years roll by, may it be as a connection between the past and the future. Today, you are upon the dividing grounds between two eras in your lives---pleasures, rivalries and ambitions of high school days and a life of high endeavor and earnest devotion to a place among men of sincere purpose and noble aims. The talents you put into this production should be devoted to the service of society. "Keep your standards high, attempt great things, and you will accomplish great things." (Disraeli) The hours of the Present are golden. Recollections of happy days that you spent together will forever brighten your pathway as you press with confident and hopeful promise into the Future.

Class History

In forty-eight we started anew
With a very large number, but now we are few.
There have been hardships and trials,
Laughter and fun,
But now we can see what a great race
We have run.
There have been times when many a child would say,
"Oh, I just can't bear this another day."
Our principal and teachers have really been fine,
They have helped us through problems of every kind.
Yes, problems and trials have been ours many,
But we have had fun and laughed as any.
We have had proms, teas, and parties too,
And all the things to entertain you.
But now we are going, we will leave you this heed:
"Strive not to equal, but to succeed."

HIGHLIGHTS OF THE SENIOR CLASS

Annie Mary Green was crowned "Miss Jabberwock" at Mary Potter Academy her freshman year.

Edythe Smith appeared in the "Tournament Play" in 1949 that won first place in Rocky Mount and went to Raleigh.

The following were attendants to the "Homecoming Queen".

In 1948	Edythe Smith
In 1949	Maria Alexander
In 1950	Edythe Smith
In 1951	Jean Terry

The plays about the "Maxwell Family" will always be remembered by the students. The students that made these popular were: Robert Lane, Samuel Williams, Deloris Hawkins, Constance Bryant, Gladys Macon and Robert Hayes.

Class Prophecy

One beautiful night just as the moon was peeping above the trees and the sky was bespangled with stars, I was sitting there wishing I had some friends to talk with. The bell rang and guess what! Robert Lane, our outstanding doctor from Toledo, Ohio walked in. I invited him into the living room and we started to talk about old friends.

He began by telling me that James Ingram, who always fell out at the word, "work" was making his living by shining shoes on the corner of Montgomery and Chestnut.

Deloris Carpenter, a fashion designer, now owns a large fashion salon in Paris and is now in Florida on her honeymoon.

Gracie Vass, a nurse at Mercy Hospital in Philadelphia, is the mother of two children.

Jean Terry, a stenographer, works in the art studio of Frederick Alexander who is a commercial artist in New York.

Odessa Bullock, a stenographer, works in the largest bank in New York. She plans to come back to North Carolina soon.

Constance Bryant, a lawyer in Boston has lost all of her cases except one.

Edythe Smith is now a doctor in Pasadena, California.

Cloia Ford is a stenographer at A. and M. College in Florida.

Rowena Green is a doctor in New Orleans and she has Rebecca Brame as her nurse.

Lyna Sutton is a stenographer in the art studio of Leona Perry of Philadelphia.

Mary Kearney is a beautician in Baltimore. She owns one of the largest salons in the city.

Annie Ruth Jackson was teaching French at City College in New York, but was transferred to France to teach because she is so good in her field.

Harriett Russell is now teaching Home Economics.

Hattie Gordon is head nurse in the largest hospital in Los Angeles and she has a beautiful home, a sweet husband and a little daughter.

Mary Lemay is now teaching in Boston.

Samuel Williams, who started his career as a writer while in high school has made it a successful career.

Eliza Bullock after trying her luck at marriage had to help support her five children so she became a beautician. Patrons include Josephine Baker and Lena Horne.

William Cannady, who longed to be an architect is now married to Gladys Macon who is a secretary at Howard.

Eddie Keamey, a doctor residing in Charlotte, North Carolina is married to Georgia Debnam who was a sophomore when she graduated.

Myrtle Taylor is a missionary teacher in Haiti.

James Moss and James Alston are head doctors at Johns Hopkins Hospital in Baltimore.

Charles Baxter is band director of the largest band in the South.

Florine Royster is residing in Washington, D. C. She is head nurse at Freedman's and engaged to an interne.

Deloris Hawkins is teaching in California. Her income is large and she is proving it by purchasing all of the luxuries of life.

Sarah Plummer made her home in Durham, North Carolina. She decided to become a nurse.

Clarence Alston who is now an evangelist is on his way home from the coast where he conducted a successful meeting.

Melvin Vass, after retiring as assistant coach of football is specializing in social work.

Pearl Burwell is a wife and stenographer in California. After completing a day's work she has a beautiful home and lovely twins to greet her.

Winston Jefferson is president of an auto plant.

Mary Venable is a stenographer at Howard University.

Maria Alexander, a famous fashion designer, has opened an exclusive shop in New York and is now on a trip to Reno to get her third divorce.

Nannie Pettaway is a stenographer for the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company in Durham, North Carolina.

Maggie Henderson is a business teacher in Richmond, Virginia. She should be taking child-care because her family is constantly increasing.

Gloria Ann Mitchell, Mollie Henderson and Evelyn Burwell are registered nurses. The latter is also the wife of a famous doctor.

Annie Mary Green is a bookkeeper in a large insurance company.

Eugene Burton has been voted the most popular orchestra leader of the year.

Joyce Brame is a stenographer in Cleveland, Ohio.

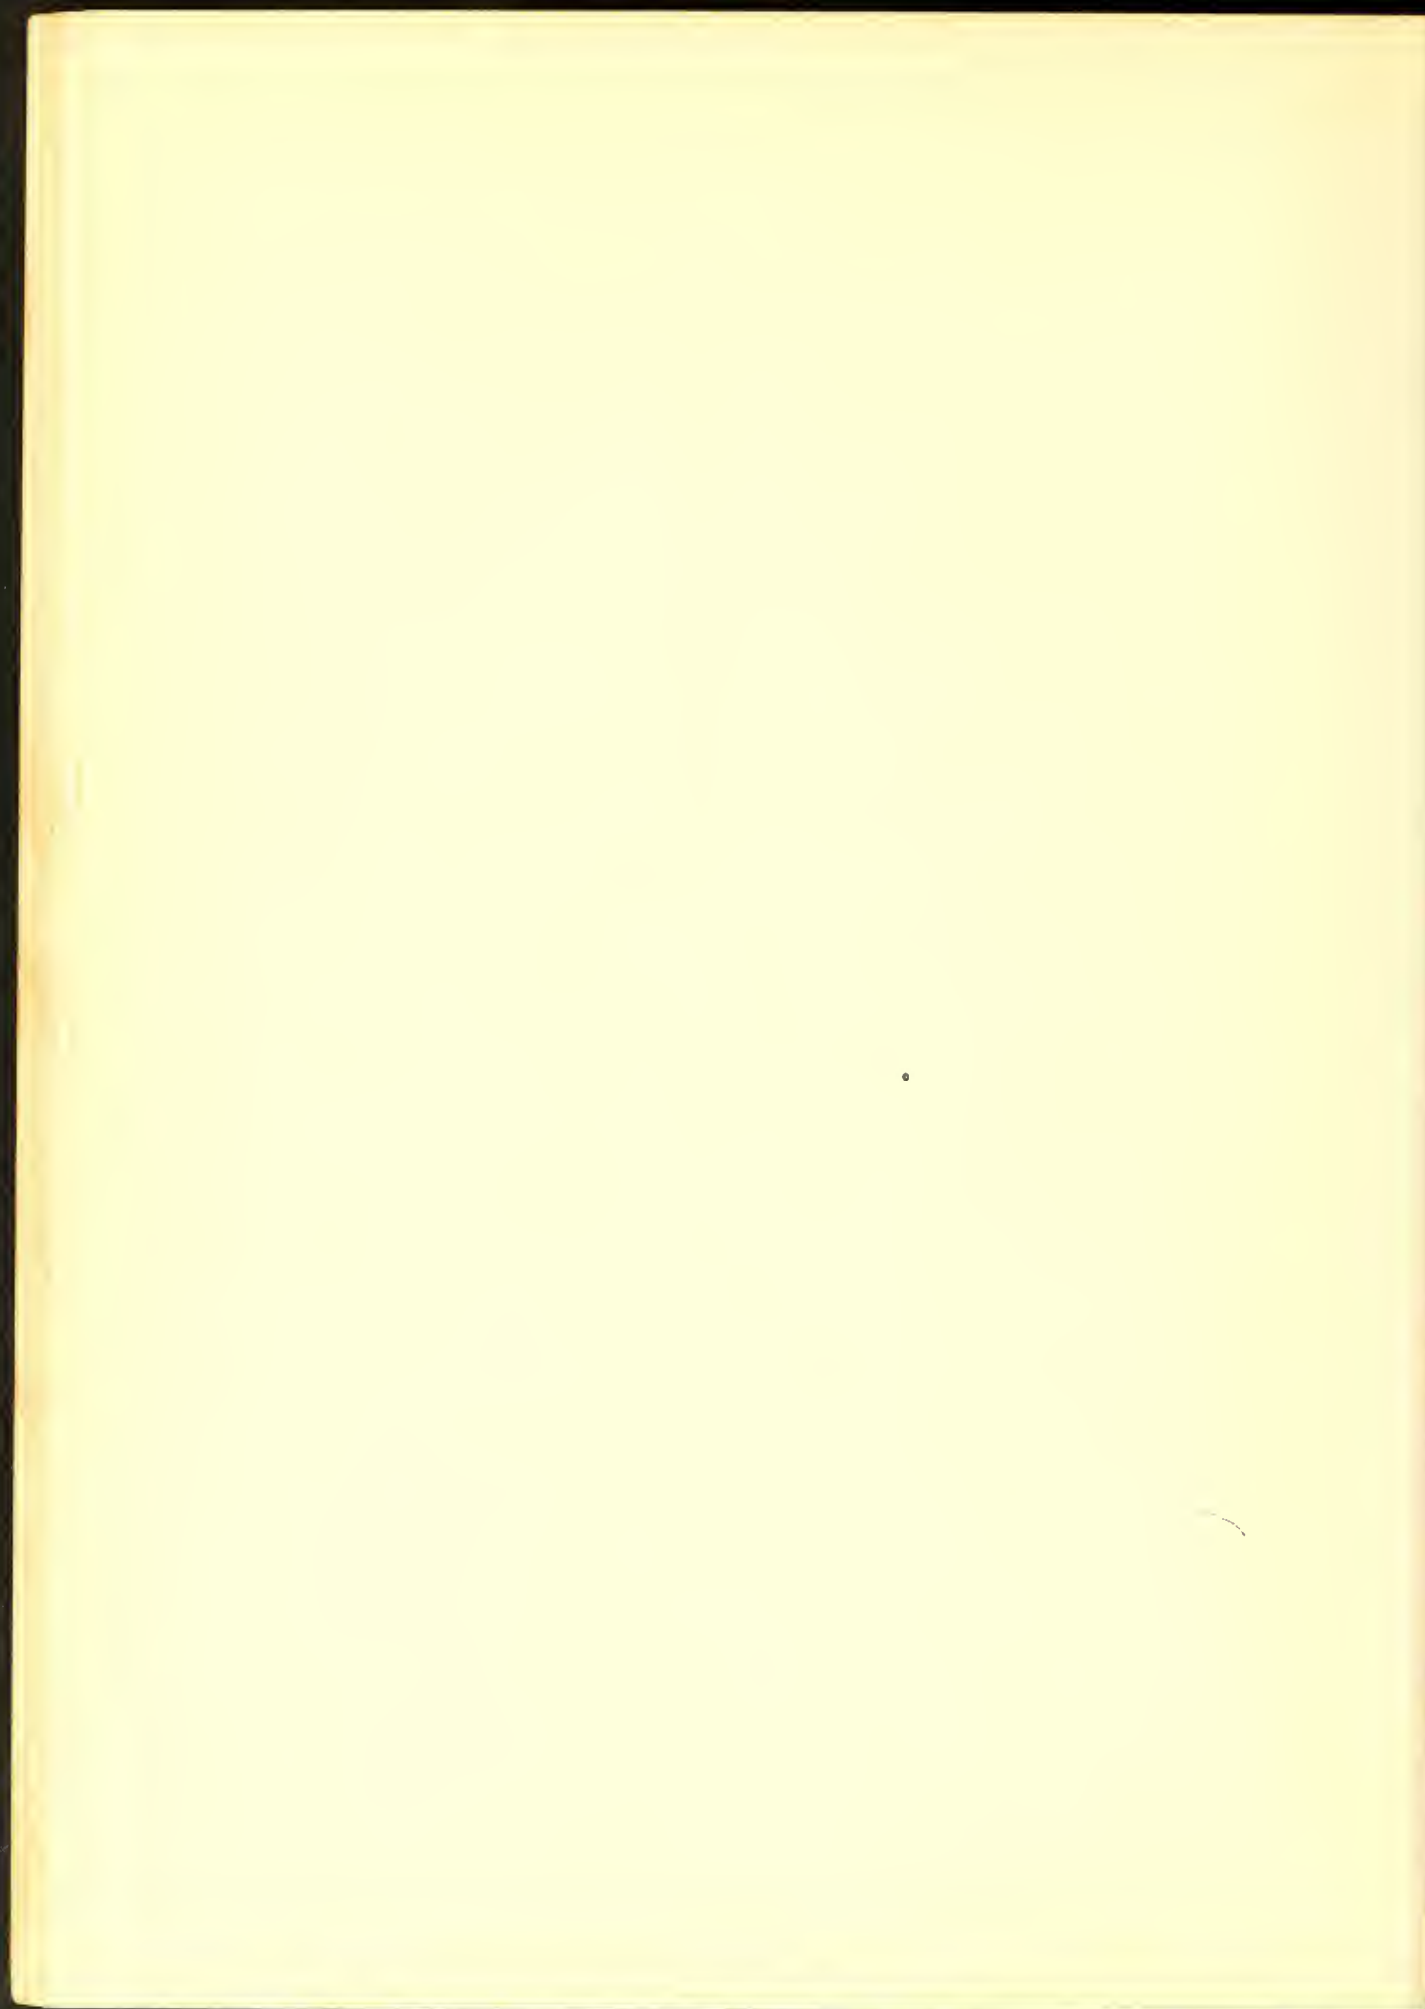

Wayman Burwell is practising medicine in California.

Mary Mickens is suing her husband because he doesn't want her to be a beautician.

Robert Hayes is a successful architect. He has started on a plan for his home which will be a dream house.

Jesse Kelly is an outstanding military officer in the U.S. Army. He is now at home on leave visiting his wife and two children in Texas.

Last Will And Testament

Class of 1952

We, the members of the Senior Class of Henderson Institute, City of Henderson, County of Vance, State of North Carolina, being of sound mind, memory, make and declare this to be our last will and testament.

First: To our Principal and Faculty, we leave our best regards and everlasting love.

Second: To the Junior Class we will our ability to become dignified Seniors--hoping they will graduate in 1953.

Third: To the Sophomore Class we will our ability to climb the heights of success in high school.

Fourth: To the Freshman Class we will our ability to try to reach the top because success comes on our tries.

To the Veteran Class we will the ability to become better farmers.

To Doris Hayes, Gloria Mitchell wills her liking for poetry and poets (she will need it next year) and to Annie Marable she wills her baby voice.

To the entire faculty and student body, Delois Hawkins wills her everlasting loyalty, love and friendship.

To Laura Baskerville, Gladys Macon wills her friendliness. To Dorothy Hayes and Janet Levister her ability to win the admiration of the opposite sex.

To Thomas Henderson, Clarence Alston wills his ability to play checkers.

Robert Lane wills his basketball ability to Jesse Palmer and his tennis ability to Charles Williamson.

Harriett Russell wills her vocal ability to Mary Branch.

Eddie Kearney wills his ability to sing to Frank Sneed and Irvin Crews. To Evelyn Baskett and Grace Ward he wills his heart so they may recall how smooth it beats.

Rowena Green wills her baby rattle to Glennie Brooks.

Cloia Ford wills her size and neatness to India Henderson.

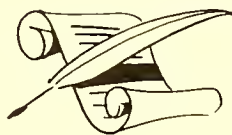

Mollie Henderson wills her smile to Margaret Alston and Peggie Bullock.

Leona Perry wills her height to Willette Christmas.

Class Song

Another class has now begun
To swing the doors awide,
Into the world of promises and hope,
To meet with joy and pride.

A door that is a future path
Whose end we cannot see
A long way where we must walk
With all humanity.

With fears and doubt let each
Step along that path be sure,
Straightening as we make our way
With peace that we hope to endure.

With new found courage, hand in hand
We go in search of good.
For right and truth are the golden keys
To world wide brotherhood.

Lyrics
Annie Ruth Jackson

Music
Tune "Auld Lang Syne"

Class Poem

The time has come to say goodbye,
Farewell to good old H. I.
All of our eyes are filled with tears
As we think of the past happy years.

While traveling this road of life,
Stop... dream awhile as if it were night;
In our minds happy dreams appear
Of days spent in this school so dear.

Here's to good old H. I. ,
Memory of you will never die;
On all may your influence be felt,
As on us with whom you have dealt.

We're marching on like soldiers in a fight,
Marching on with all our might
For great glory, honor and fame,
Joy, success, we'll bring to your name.

The time has come when we must part,
We'll say goodbye though it breaks our hearts,
Our friendship growing stronger than ever
Will make us always long to be together.

THE GRIDIRON PANTHERS

The gridiron season of the Henderson Institute was one of many thrills and excitement. The Panthers, boasting a very young and inexperienced team, opened the season by defeating four opponents in quick succession. They opened the season by defeating Creedmoor at the Panthers' field by 38-13. In this game John Dunstan, who is the All Conference star of the Panthers, led them to victory. George Burroughs, who is the quarterback of the Panther Eleven also covered himself with glory. Then in the Homecoming fracas a newcomer, Herman Jones stole the show by galloping 67 yards from the line of scrimmage to a touchdown against a very tough Palmer Institute team. The Panthers came out victorious by 32-7 in one of the most thrilling games of the season.

In the next two games the Panthers won by one point margins. They defeated Franklin County Training School 13-12, Warren County Training School 13-12. Then the Panthers ran into a snag. They lost to Chapel Hill 13-0, Nash County Training 19-7, Fayetteville 13-6. This ended the season for the Panthers.

Some of the newcomers who did their share and will surely see future service are Reginald Brodie, William Hinton, Freddie Alexander, Cicero Allen, William Love.
